Great news: ‘Books in Homes’ program sponsored by Glencore

Glencore has sponsored our school for the ‘Books in Homes’ program. Subsequently, each and every student at our school will receive 9 books which they can keep (3 books each in Term 1, 2, & 4). This project will encourage children to become excited about reading as the books are very attractive and have high interest value to young readers.

Students will have the opportunity of selecting their own books from a display each time. Glencore’s donation is huge and greatly appreciated by our staff and P&C. Students will be supplied with a Book Bag to keep their books in. We will have a Parade at the end of Term 1 to acknowledge and thank Glencore for enriching the lives of our young readers.

DAY 8 - TEACHER ALLOCATION FOR 2015

There may be changes to our classes due to an increase in enrolments. We now have 429 students. It is likely that we will receive an 18th teacher after Day 8. The changes will be to the middle years as we have large classes in Year 4 and Year 5. If your child is going to be moved you will receive a letter informing you of the change as soon as we have it finalised.

We realise it is a hard time to disrupt the students, however it will mean reduced class sizes that will ultimately benefit the education of the children.

THIS WEEK: Preparing for Transition and Change In 2015

With the start of a new school year, will bring with it a big change for all students, particularly for new prep coming to school for the very first time and the Year 6 and 7 students making the move from Primary to Secondary. It can bring with it ups and downs and transitions and change can be a major source of stress for many kids. Consider the following to relieve any anxiety:

- Talk about the new change as much as possible – the more they know, the less anxious they will be.
- Encourage them to talk about how they feel about it and reassure them it is normal to be a little anxious about it.
- For the little ones, read story books about going to school, watch videos clips about the first day so they learn the familiar with this new school.
- You may even decide to devise a little goodbye routine and practise this a few times before their first day.
- Come up with a specific drop off and pick up spot and time so that your child knows you will be there for them at the end of the day.
- Be positive and enthusiastic – your child is more likely to look forward to the change if you are positive about it (leave the “it’s a scary thing my baby going to high school/ school” conversation to your friends and around your child say things like “it’s going to be exciting – you will love every minute of it and you will be fine.”
- Find a buddy for your child – maybe someone they know can walk into school with on the first day/week.
- Be prepared ahead of time (eg: school lists/ uniforms etc) to ease any anxiety over not being organised and ready.
